

THE STOW-AWAY

Kia ora, my friend: I've started a story for you & your loved one to finish off. To help you along the way here are a few suggestions:

- You write a sentence or two & then post it to your loved one, who'll write something & then send it back to you. Do this until the story is completed & all the drawings (illustrations) are done!
- It may take a while to complete, but as long as you're both having fun, then that it's all good!

The Stow-Away

Hine was the biggest All-Blacks fan ever! Hine loved everything about the All-Blacks and anything to do with rugby. In her school team Hine usually played half-back or number 10 as she could think really fast on her feet. With a flick of her wrist Hine could change the direction of the game to either the blind-side or open-side. Hine was excited because the All-Blacks we're going to be driving though Taihape on their way to Hamilton in their big team bus. The reason Hine was excited was that she was hoping to get a chance to take some selfies!

CAN YOU BOTH DRAW A PICTURE OF HINE (OR YOURSELF) PLAYING RUGBY:

THE STOW-AWAY

When the All-Blacks Captain opened the little door, he got such a fright that he did a big fart!

THE STOW-AWAY

Hine was allowed to stay and watch the game, she was so happy that she...

Even though Hine had been naughty, her parents were so happy to see her that that they had tears and snot running down their noses. As punishment Hine had to do heaps of extra chores for the next three months!

The End.
