Kia ora, I am currently serving time in prison, but I'm wanting to support my child with their schooling as much as I can. I really do appreciate that you teachers have high workloads, but I would hope that you can correspond with me during the school year so that we can share any information that might be of help to my child's well-being.

Areas is my child struggling with are:

I would appreciate your view on my child's general wellbeing. I'm keen to know if or when my child doesn't have adequate food or clothing or any other detail that I should be aware of, such as being overly withdrawn or disruptive. Please note that any information you share with me may be discussed with other people so that appropriate support can be given to my child.

In my correspondence and interaction with my child (phone/visits) – do you have any topics that you'd like me to address or help my child understand? Examples: does my child need more re-assurance that I am okay, can I help with spelling/math's or other exercises? Or do you have any other ideas how I can support & encourage my child?

Thank you for taking the time to respond to me. If you can also make sure that I get sent copies of my child's school report or perhaps some artwork on occasion I would very much appreciate this.

Thank you & Nga mihi
